

Becoming a Registered Supervisor

Registration is condition-based. You meet the conditions, you register yourself, and you supervise.

The Association does not confer the status or evaluate your suitability. Responsibility for the quality of your supervision remains yours.

THE SIX CONDITIONS They apply together, not in sequence. All six, or you are not eligible to register.

Certified Member status

Current, and held throughout. If your certification lapses your registration lapses with it.

The Certificate in Clinical Supervision

The Association's own course, delivered by the School of Sex Therapy. One month, meeting weekly.

Three clinicians in training

Each a person you brought into psychosexual therapy. You are the reason they enrolled in an accredited program.

The quarterly meetings

Four a year, two hours each. At least three with your camera on, yielding not fewer than six CE hours.

The registration fee

USD 300 a year, or USD 150 at Tier II, payable on top of your Certified Member dues.

The signed undertaking

The Code of Ethics, the Standards of Supervision, the Handbook, and the member-benefit policies.

EVERY YEAR

Renew by 1 January

The window

By 15 January and registration is continuous. Late to 31 January leaves a gap, and hours in it count for nobody.

Certification

Current Certified Member status. If it lapses, registration lapses the same day.

Someone to supervise

At least one, assessed at the renewal date. It need not be a new recruit.

Six CE hours

From the meetings of the year ending. The same six renew your certification.

WHAT YOU CHARGE

You set your own supervision fee and are paid directly. IAPST takes no share of it.

WHAT IT IS NOT

Registration indicates registration only. Not a certification, a credential, or an endorsement. The designation is RegSup.

WHERE TO READ IT IN FULL

Read the Standards of Supervision before you register. The Handbook is issued when you do.
